

Violent Crimes

Maryland Assault and Violent Crimes Attorney

Law enforcement generally assumes that victims of violent crimes knew his or her attacker. This tendency has caused prosecutors to target their investigative efforts around relatives, family friends, neighbors and acquaintances based on circumstantial evidence.

At the law firm Joseph, Greenwald & Laake, P.A., we seek to level the playing field for individuals accused of committing violent crimes. Our firm's Maryland criminal defense lawyers know that crime scenes are not always thoroughly investigated based on initial leads and even budgetary restraints. We are skilled investigators prepared to uncover any false statements or contradictory evidence obtained against you.

Contact our law firm today for a free and confidential evaluation. During an initial consultation, you will work directly with an experienced criminal defense attorney who will explain our firm's hourly fee structure.

Developing an Aggressive Defense Strategy

The criminal defense lawyers at our firm have extensive experience defending clients accused of committing violent crimes, such as:

Arson Kidnapping Homicide and murder Assault, aggravated assault and assault and battery Rape and sexual assault Armed robbery

At Joseph, Greenwald & Laake, P.A., we devote substantial resources to developing an aggressive defense strategy. We understand that time and budgetary constraints are known to limit law enforcement's focus on trying to track down every lead. Our firm's defense attorneys seek to undermine the prosecution's evidence through conducting our own investigation into the evidence obtained against you.

We will seek to question the credibility of the prosecution's witnesses through exposing any false or contradictory statements. Part of our focus also includes identifying evidence or witness statements pointing to other viable leads. Our law firm will pursue every angle possible to develop an effective defense strategy.

If you or your loved one is accused of murder or homicide, remember a criminal charge does not translate into a conviction. Our firm's Rockville homicide defense lawyers seek to stay ahead of the prosecution through developing an aggressive defense strategy. We understand police officers have a limited amount of time and money to develop a convincing case. This tendency can cause investigators and prosecutors to focus almost entirely on one lead. At Joseph, Greenwald & Laake, P.A., we will pursue any alternative leads or evidence that casts doubt into you as a suspect. Our law firm knows the right angles to pursue in exposing any false assumptions made against you.
