Arbitration & Mediation

At JGL, we are dedicated to resolving our clients' disputes in the most cost-effective and efficient way possible. Often, this means exploring resolutions through alternative dispute resolution (ADR). JGL has decades of experience in resolving legal matters using ADR.

We use a common-sense strategy and approach to identifying which disputes would be more successfully resolved outside of court and without the expense of litigation and trial. We bring a track record of advantageous outcomes to mediation, arbitration, and other ADR methods. We are fluent in the rules and procedures of the American Arbitration Association, Center for Public Resources, JAMS Endispute, and private ADR programs, as well as retired judges and neutrals. We also draft ADR clauses for contractual arrangements that seek to mitigate future litigation risk.
